

EuroCIS 2024: Go beyond today!27 to 29 February 2024 will see the Who's Who of Europe's retail technology sector meet in DüsseldorfSolutions and products for the future of retail +++ Excellent networking within the expert community +++ Comprehensive line-up of side events provides many impulses and updates revolving around retail technology

In late February, numerous companies will again exhibit solutions and products for retailers to shape and secure their future true to the motto "Go beyond today" at EuroCIS, The Leading Trade Fair for Retail Technology.

Users and decision-makers from retail and wholesale, financial services and banking, from the hospitality, food service and institutional catering sectors as well as the leisure industry will – just like IT, e-commerce and payment providers as well as security specialists – be able to gather information on and buy the latest retail technologies. On offer will be detailed solutions for Merchandise & Supply Chain Management, POS Soft and Hardware, HR, Robotics, Security & Loss Prevention, Cash Management and Pricing, to name but a few.

These are the Hot Topics of the retail sector:

- Customer Centricity
- AI & Machine Learning
- Payment
- Connected Retail
- Seamless Store
- Smart Energy Management

EuroCIS 2024 has been very well received on the exhibitor side, with the result that the event is already far outstripping the previous event in terms of exhibitor numbers and square meters booked six months before the start.

EuroCIS

THE LEADING TRADE FAIR
FOR RETAIL TECHNOLOGY

27–29 FEB 2024

DÜSSELDORF, GERMANY

www.eurocis.com

As part of EuroCIS, interested parties will also have the opportunity to find out about XPONENTIAL Europe, a new trade fair for unmanned and autonomous systems such as robotics and drones, at a booth. From 2025, it will be held as a stand-alone event for the first time in Germany concurrently with EuroCIS.

Side events

The three stages dedicated to Technology, Connected Retail and Start-ups will provide a wealth of insights for visitors' own operations thanks to top-notch speakers and exciting business cases. The fourth edition of the popular Start-Up Hub additionally gives attendees the opportunity to forge business contacts with promising newcomers. Two high-calibre award ceremonies organised by EHI – the retail technology awards europe (reta) and the Science Prize – recognise especially impressive approaches. As part of Guided Innovation Tours, visitors will again be introduced to high potentials and innovations.

The trade fair is open daily from 10.00 am to 6.00 pm. www.eurocis.com

Exhibitors can register online at <http://www.eurocis.com/2330>. Stand space allocation in the halls is already underway.
